June 29, 2015 – PlusOne Sports, LLC, the creator of FlingGolf, has announced a new partnership that will support the goals and initiatives of the National High School Athletic Coaches Association (NHSACA), while introducing the new sport to high school coaches and students across America.

“The NHSACA is dedicated to serving high school athletic programs throughout the United States; providing professional services and exploring opportunities for all of our member coaches, said David Dougherty, Executive Director. “We provide resources to promote teamwork, sportsmanship, and healthy lifestyles for athletes, coaches, and athletic directors. FlingGolf offers a chance to further that mission.”

With this partnership and endorsement, FlingGolf and the NHSACA aim to shape the future of this exciting sport as it rolls out across the country. Both organizations share a purpose of and passion for getting our youth more active outdoors and involved in sports that are fun and accessible to all skill levels. FlingGolf will provide resources, including equipment, to promote the NHSACA’s mission.

"The team at PlusOne Sports is thrilled that NHSACA, a well respected coaching organization with a great history and deep roots in communities throughout the country, is now a partner and will be bringing FlingGolf to athletes in those communities.

NHSACA provides a great opportunity for us and we believe the expansion of FlingGolf from this partnership will provide communities, athletes, and golf courses a fantastic chance to be on the forefront of something active, exciting and rewarding.", said FlingGolf Founder/CEO, Alex Van Alen. “In addition to introducing FlingGolf to all members, we have established a fund to support the outstanding athletes connected to the organization.

Representatives from FlingGolf and the NHSACA will work together over the summer to educate member coaches and athletic directors about the new sport. Programs for students will launch at the beginning of the school year (September 2015).
